

NGOs in the Arab World Post-Arab Uprisings

NGOs in the Arab World Post-Arab Uprisings is a joint venture between the Asfari Institute for Civil Society and Citizenship, the Arab Studies Institute, and Lebanon's Legal Agenda. Nizar Saghieh of the Legal Agenda contributed much initiative and credibility to this project and was essential to the success of the research contained within. Fateh Azzam and Rania Masri of the Asfari Institute are owed special thanks, as well as Fawwaz Tarabulsi and Ziad Abdel Samad for their participation in research workshops and the feedback they provided. Noura Erakat also deserves recognition for her continuous work and management of this project. Tadween Publishing's Jen Curatola, Katie Jackson, Alicia Cagle, and John Warner, as well as the rest of the editing and translation team, warrant praise as well. Bassam Haddad of the Arab Studies Institute was critical to the formation of this research project, pushing us to initiate a critical study related to human rights in the Arab World following the Arab Uprisings. Finally, Menna Omar, Majid Al Muthhaji, Wahid Farchihi, Firas Jaber, Iyad Al Riyahi, and the other members of the research team contributed much to the project through their research, often overcoming significant barriers and enduring real personal risk, and so we extend our utmost appreciation to them.
